

Mr. Bartlett

Throughout the school week I can be reached immediately by email from 9-11 AM and 1-3 PM. My school email is brian.bartlett@k12.sd.us. Feel free to email me at other times, but you may not get an immediate response. If we need to speak over phone, I will give you my number through the email.

We will be using Google Classroom. Everyone has been invited but in case you did not get an invite, you can use the codes below to get logged in.

American History Honors:

-I have no new assignments for you this week, spend the time getting caught up. If you are finished with everything, good job, you are done. I have not been great about updating the gradebook but don't worry. Starting May 1st I will be getting to the gradebook and should have everything updated by early next week. Just shoot me an email if I missed something or you have any concerns!
