Students will understand others' feelings and perspectives. Watch a favorite movie or TV show. Watch for different feelings throughout the show. What clues tell you how a person is feeling? Discuss with your family!	We will focus on the second step of Step it up – talking it out using put down statements and clear it up statements. Students will recognize how the words they use can affect others. We are going to learn the difference between put-down statements and clear it up statements. Put down statements hurt someone's feelings. With clear it up statements we remain calm and avoid blaming the other person. We focus on our own feelings and how we want to solve the problem Talk about this example with your family: Riley and Hallie had agreed to be partners for a class project. Later, when the teacher tells the class to pick their partners, Riley chose to work with someone else. A put down statement might be Hallie saying "I'm never going to work with you again!"

	What might be a clear it up statement? Remember to share feelings and make a request. *Watch Dojo/Remind for a lesson.
